Team Award TRAIL BLAZERS

10.10.2020

All is well in the sight of our Master. However, the human sight doesn't portray a perfect vision of 2020. Somehow, this year shows a contrast to the way things were and the way things will be. Being arrogant™ reminds us that life is a positive attitude approach to all challenges, asserting self-confidence with a mission of achieving successful results.

2020 is no different for us, the believers of this word and its definition. We will keep a positive attitude approach to the challenges we now face. Now is the time to assert positive energy into a negative situation which is upon us. We all should expect positive and successful results once we cross the finish line in these crucial times. There are times when we train for a walk or run and look forward to the challenge. We enter, expecting to win or at least give it our very best effort to win. As we approach the starting line after a great warm up, we take off. Not more than a mile into the event, we all of a sudden grab our leg as the most crippling cramp grabs a hold of us.

Well, you trained, you prepared, you hydrated, you did all you could to ready yourself for the best event of the year. Once you did all you could, that was all you could do. A cramp came out of nowhere and crippled you. It wasn't necessarily your fault, you are not sure if you could have done anything different to prevent it, but it happened.

Such be it in life when you can't control the uncontrollable. We liken this year's event to the scenario we have portrayed. We planned, we prepared, we readied and we prayed for the best 5th-year event we could provide to you. It was not to be. We received a CRAMP(COVID-19 REVISE AND MODERATE PROGRAM).

As you know, a CRAMP doesn't last forever. We plan to shake it off, stretch and make our body stronger for next year's event. Our ar-ro-gressive™ 5K Trail Run/Walk 2021 planning has begun for next year. Oh yes, we will be back, and we welcome you back also!

Keep the faith and know that you have to put your trust in someone, somebody or some thing. You have a choice in who or what that trust will be. As man we could have handled the challenge of Coronavirus (COVID-19) in a much smarter manner. We should have called upon someone bigger than man earlier. We at times make Him the last resort when we should call upon Him first. We should know that we are managers and not the creator of this world. Lets start today living as such and thanking our Master for allowing us to occupy earth before we move to our everlasting resting home.

Sprint if you can, if you can't sprint, jog, if you can't jog, run, if you can't run, walk, if you can't walk, crawl, if you can't crawl, trust in the one that allows us to do any or all of these. Whatever the means, arrive at your destination and tow a friend.

Our Speaker Hank Stewart

Mr. Hank Stewart converses with event participants.

We had the pleasure of having Hank Stewart as our post ar-ro-gressive™ 5K Trail Run/Walk 2019 speaker. And did everyone feel fulfilled to hear such profound poetry and information, oh yes! Hank delivered as he always does more thought provoking news and entertainment.

Hank is the founder of "Walk Against the Call" which is an awareness walk to prevent breast cancer raising more than $100,000. He is also the founder of the Annual White Linen Affair, Hot Chocolate, Love Jones Sunday's and Five Men on a Stool. Hank's strong presence in the community afforded him the opportunity to register 15,000 voters.

As a result of his love for the community and specifically the youth, Hank Stewart co-founded with Gwendolyn Mason, a youth leadership development foundation focused on strengthening our children whole, mind, body and soul. The foundation has impacted more than 10,000 youth over the course of its existence and has made significant changes to our youth's health & financial wellness, education, social and community involvement.

Thanks Hank for accommodating our need to hear a great message.
